

RECOMMENDATIONS AND GUIDELINES TO INCREASE THE LEVEL OF OPENNESS IN YOUR TEACHING WORK

Based on the results of your survey, in this page you find some recommended readings, videos, tutorials and courses to improve the level of openness in your teaching

Open Learning Design

To consolidate your expertise on open learning design, we suggest you:

... take the Open learning Design MOOC by JISC. Link (Course duration: 9 weeks)

... get familiar with “The Learning Designer” site. Link (registration needed)

... get familiar with the “Integrated Learning Design Environment” site. Link (registration needed)

Open Educational Resources

To consolidate your expertise on OER, we suggest you...

... read the UNESCO/COL Guidelines for Open Educational Resources (OER) in Higher Education, here

... play the online game “Finding & Using Open Educational Resources”. Link (playing time: 30 minutes)

... browse this long list of web sources of open content for your teaching. Link (reading time: 1 hour)

... read some true stories of open resources reuse. Link.

... get an understanding on the debate around OER and open licensing by reading Chapter 2 of the Report “Giving Knowledge for Free” by OECD. Link (reading time: 2 hours).

Open Teaching

To consolidate your expertise on open teaching, we suggest you:

... explore some tools and platform that can enhance your teaching, ed by the OpenContentToolkit project. Link

... read the Open University Innovating Pedagogy 2015 report, which explores and discusses new forms of teaching, learning and assessment. Link

... take the OERu course Dimensions of Openness in Education. Link (Course duration: 20 hours)

... read the paper “Attributes of Open Pedagogy A Model for Using Open Educational Resources” by Bronwyn Hegarty. Link

Open Assessment

To consolidate your expertise on open assessment, we suggest you:

... watch this video presenting an introduction to Open Badges. Link